WHEAT PROSPECTS

Last year the wheat crop was about 480,000,000 bushels—the largest on record. This year, according to the reports, it will exceed 400,000,000. Many estimates put it lower than that figure. There are, however, certain offsets to place against the deficiency. The Pacific States hold a surplus of last year's crop of 20,000,000 ... stock visible in the United States, ... from the Pacific States, and the stock in the hands of farmers will make the total surplus of 40,000,000, reducing the actual deficiency compared with the crop of last year to 40,000,000. Consequently the exportable surplus will be between ... and fifty million bushels less than last year, when it was 173,000,000 of wheat and flour. The latest reports from Europe vary somewhat, but it appears that the crop of Great Britain is somewhat better than last year, and the stock is so increased that that country will not have to import so much as it did last year by from twelve to fifteen million bushels. France has no need for the excessive importations of the past two years. Russia, which has had a short crop for the past two years, becomes an important factor because the crop promises to be large. Last year her export did not exceed ... 000,000 bushels. It has been over 100,000,000. It will reach ... 000 this year, which means that she will have 40,000,000 more for export than it had last year. England and France will probably require 50,000,000 bushels less than last year, and Russia will furnish 40,000,000 more, which means that the demand on the United States by Europe will be 90,000,000 bushels less than last year, which is 63,000,000. These are estimates made somewhat after the manner in which chickens are counted before they are hatched.

THE NIGHT BEFORE THE SHOOTING

... Henry Marshal of the District of Columbia relates the following particulars of the evening he spent with Garfield the night before the shooting. He says: "The night before the tragedy I dined with the President, and after dinner we were alone a considerable time in the library of the White House. Our conversation was remarkable in some ways and nothing of it has ever been published. I told him that I would prefer to remain in the city until after he departed. He replied that if I waited until after he left I would not be able to get home until Monday, and that I had better go on as I had intended. From that the conversation drifted to various subjects. He remarked that he had that day done one of the pleasantest things of his whole official career—he had promoted Capt. Mitchell of Gen. Hancock's staff to be a Major. While we were talking the newly appointed Major sent in his card, and the President remarked: 'Here he is now,' and had him ushered in. A fine soldierly man came in, and, after cordially thanking the President for the promotion, was introduced to me. Then the conversation drifted, and, most strange to say, the President presently began talking about the remarkable escapes from death through which he had passed. I had never heard him speak of these in the way he did that night. The incidents related to his boyhood and youth, some of them having been already published and some that I had never heard of before. He was unusually dwelling upon the uncertainty of life to a certain extent, but the immediate cause of it was the terrible accidents that happened to his favorite uncle, Thomas Garfield, and his cousin, Mrs Arnold."

THE PRESIDENT'S WOUND

Wash Cor N Y Herald, July 1

The surgeons received to-day a second flexible probe from Boston the probing ... it being nearly twelve inches in length ... decalcified bone drainage tube with which the pus is drawn from the wound, is already sunk into it five inches with the slightest pressure upon it by the attending physicians. Whether the course of the wound is in a direct line Dr Bliss is prepared to say. The tube is very flexible and would readily adjust itself to the shape of the wound. But the impression is that it does not bend. Dr Woodward, who has a good reputation as a microscopist, has all of his instruments at the Executive Mansion, and whenever the wound is dressed receives some of the ... for examination. As yet he has found the slightest trace of pepatic ... which fact would show that the ... had not been traversed. Nevertheless the doctors adhere to the belief that the liver was touched. The impression, however, is that the ball was not deflected but its force was exhausted between the ... distance of clothing and the epidermis and has lodged in the cavity of the abdomen. In this connection the career of the bullet fired at the President the history of which seems to have been finally traced by the District Attorney, has a peculiar interest and bearing.

It seems to be very well settled," says Colonel Corkhill, "that the charge of powder in the cartridges fired by Guiteau was very light. At a distance of forty feet the second shot spent its force in penetrating a ... wooden box, the side of which was but one-fourth of an inch thick, broke ... three panes of glass and imbedded itself in a lump of putty."

This is District Attorney Corkhill's latest contribution to the stray bullet story.

A VOYAGE FOR THE PRESIDENT

A Washington special says the Secretary of the Navy issued an order Tuesday directing that the work of repairing the United States steamer Tallapoosa, the dispatch vessel of the navy on the Atlantic coast, now at the Washington Navy Yard, should be prosecuted with all possible dispatch so that the vessel may be ready for sea by the 12th of August. The Tallapoosa has been undergoing extensive repairs for some months and in the ordinary course of work would be ready for sea some time about the 1st of September next. Anticipating the recovery of the President, who is very anxious for a sea voyage, the Secretary of the Navy desires to have the Tallapoosa ready for that purpose. She is a paddle wheel steamer of 650 tons and is regarded as more suitable for the trip proposed than the screw steamer Despatch. The plans include a swinging bunk, in which the President can rest with ease and entirely independent of the pitching motion of the vessel. It is regarded as probable that the Tallapoosa will be employed for the President's benefit for some weeks after he recovers sufficiently to be moved upon her. Everything that can be done to contribute to his comfort and that of his family will be provided in the improvements of the vessel. She will ply between Washington and Norfolk for a short time, and when the weather appears favorable she will run up to Long Branch, perhaps to Long Island Sound.

A telegram from Quebec to the Montreal Witness says that through the instrumentality of the Governor-General of Canada the sword which belonged to the gallant but ill fated Gen. Montgomery, who fell before Quebec on the last night of the year 1775, has been transferred to the Livingston family, residing on the Hudson River, New York, the General having married into that family.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

Hon. Levi P. Morton, Minister to France, sailed Wednesday for Havre.

Mr. Andrew D. White, American Minister at Berlin, will start for America in August.

The Archbishop of Canterbury says the last audible words of Dean Stanley were: "I have labored amidst many frailties and much weakness to make Westminster Abbey the great centre of religious and national life in a truly liberal spirit."

A Massachusetts man, who lost a famous cow the other day, writes to a Boston paper that hereafter Scituate, the town where she was kept, "will be as well known as the home of 'Jersey Belle' as Marshfield and Ashland are for their illustrious dead."

The Moncton (New Brunswick) Times, says that a brewer's employe in Toronto formally sold his wife and two children to a fellow-employe a few days ago. As the woman was sold with a rope round her neck, and as the instrument of sale was signed by both the men, they fully believed that the transaction was legal.

"The South, ever ready to forget and forgive, gladly takes Mr. Blaine by the hand, and numbers him, not as one of those who have sought their favor for the purpose of political advancement, but as a man trying to do his duty fearlessly and faithfully, regardless of personal consequences."—Vash'lle Banner

A wealthy citizen of Pennsylvania has written to Governor Foster, of Ohio, as a near friend of the President (and his family), stating that he (the writer) desires to give Mrs Garfield $100,000 for her support in case the President dies. He does not know, however, how to go about it in such a way as to make his gift acceptable and so he asks the Governor for advice.

It is estimated at the P O Department that the increase in the total amount of business transacted through the postal money order system during the last fiscal year will amount to $8,000,000 or $10,000,000 over that of the preceding year, or $110,000,000 to $112,000,000. The foreign exchange with Europe averages about £10,000 a week, and has been largely increased by the opening of mines in the West and by the resumption of specie payments, which does away with the necessity of making all changes through the New York office.

Senator Ben H Hill, of Georgia, has been suffering for the past eighteen months with a disease of the mouth but was not aware of its dangerous character until Wednesday, when an examination by Dr Gross, of Philadelphia, showed it to be epithelioma, and after consulting with Dr Pancoast, it was decided to have an operation performed. The patient was taken to Jefferson Medical College, ... tered, and the operation was most successfully performed, and the prospects are good for a rapid and permanent recovery.

Our cable dispatches report a very remarkable social event in London, Thursday, being no less than the marriage of Lord Colin Campbell with Miss Gertrude Blood, who is a daughter of the notorious Victoria Woodhull and one of her "affinities" the "Col" Blood who was recently a partner of Fogg in publishing the Greenback paper at Auburn. How a woman who became practically a social outcast in republican America could obtain recognition in aristocratic circles of England and marry her daughter to a live "Lord" in the presence of the Queen's daughter and other dignitaries, is a problem which involves some sharp comparisons of the conditions of society in the two countries.

The President does not like farinaceous food. The other morning while Mrs Garfield sat by his bedside reading out the headings of the important telegraphic news, she announced, "Sitting Bull is starving." The President, interrupting her, said, "Well, send him my dish of oatmeal. I have no use for it."

Miss Frances E Willard writes to the White Mountain Echo, suggesting that the beautiful mountain ignobly called "The Haystack," be renamed Mount Garfield, in honor of the President, "whose face was set toward the White Hills on the morning of his attempted assassination." "Perhaps," she adds, "there is a vacancy his honored name might appropriately fill in the 'Presidential Range,' which bears aloft those of some accidentally great men, but surely he is entitled, by the grandeur of his character, the height of his fortitude, and the depth of the people's love of him to the apotheosis of these everlasting hills. Exit 'Haystack,' enter 'Mount Garfield.'"

GUITEAU IN CLOSE CONFINEMENT. District Attorney Corkhill on Tuesday addressed the following stringent instructions for the close confinement of Guiteau to the Warden of the Jail in Washington:

General J. S. Crocker, Warden United States Jail:

DEAR SIR: The Grand Jury having adjourned until the 12th of September, and it being impossible to ascertain the final result of the attack by Charles Guiteau, the assassin of the President, it will be necessary to retain him in custody for future action by the authorities. I desire that you place him on one side of the jail where there are no other prisoners, and where means of escape are impossible, that you will allow him to see no other person whatever, and that he be not permitted to hold conversation with any of the guards, and that he be rigorously excluded from receiving or sending any communication, except those delivered by me or received by my direction. I desire this direction to be rigidly executed.

GEORGE B. CORKHILL

Guiteau Tuesday addressed a note to Postmaster Ainger, authorizing the Postmaster to deliver to District-Attorney Corkhill for such disposition as he may desire all mail matter addressed to the prison.

NEW MAGAZINES

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE.—The August number of the ECLECTIC contains a number of important articles of permanent value, as well as of current interest. The leading article is entitled The Sword, and is an historical essay of the sparkling and vivacious kind for which Blackwood's is famous. A paper by Miss Julia Wedgwood on Froude as a Biographer makes an interesting contribution to the controversy over the publication of Carlyle's Reminiscences. Dogs of Literature is a gossipy article on the part which dogs have played in literature, and their relations to authors, and in Boycotted, Mr. W. Bence-Jones, a landlord, gives a graphic account of recent experiences in Ireland. Other valuable and interesting papers are A Reviser on the New Testament, by Rev. G. Vance Smith, Visions of Sane Persons, by Mr. Francis Galton; The Sun-Voice, To Chaucer, Among the Dictionaries, Love and Pain; Some National Characteristics of European Society, by Karl Hillebrand; Our Cooling Sphere, by William Downes, M. A.; and three additional chapters of the highly interesting novel, Kith and Kin, by Jessie Fothergill, author of The First Violin. The Editorial Departments are well filled, as usual, and comprise Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art and Miscellany.

Published by E. R. Pelton, 25 Bond Street, New York. Terms, $5 per year, single copy, 45 cents, Trial subscription for three months, $1.

A FEARFUL VISITANT.

Terrible Havoc of the Army Worm.

WHOLE COUNTIES DEVASTATED.

Wholesale Destruction of Grain Fields.

CHICAGO July 21 A Des Moines special says the army worm is making terrible havoc in the oat fields of Iowa The yield of small grain has begun in the localities and in large areas it will fall short of the seed planted

The Times summarizes its reports of the advance of the army worm as follows territory in this State thus far ravaged [illegible] Woodford, Livingston McLean [illegible] and Lasalle counties a territory north of the center of the State and extending eastward to the eastern boundary In Michigan the worm has descended upon the fertile crops of Calhoun and rich counties and in many localities done unusual and serious damage It is reported from Battle Creek that whenever it strikes a field or tree it strips every green blade and leaf until trees have been left in places as devoid of verdure as [illegible] In Wisconsin the depredations thus far have been confined to localities about Watertown and Fox Lake with much the same result as noticed elsewhere It is stated from Fox Lake that the depredations are confined to fields that were not sown with oats In Iowa and Southern Minnesota wheat and barley have been injured by the weather and chinch bugs so that there will hardly be more than half a crop Reports from McGregor and Western Iowa though not having made serious depredations at the latter places they are doing the most damage where the weather is warm They are not noticed to [illegible] The above includes all territory visited thus far So far as reports show no deduction can be made as to the worms' next place of appearance

PHILADELPHIA STAR ROUTERS

Their Case in Court

PHILADELPHIA July 21 The case of the men arrested upon charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in letting star route mail contracts in Arizona and Utah came before the United States Commissioner to-day

Christian Price and Le Grande Ensign were the only defendants to appear and on application of District Attorney the bail of Thos A McDavitt was forfeited Subsequently his counsel appeared with a telegram stating that he had missed the train at Perryville and was on his way here

Postal Inspector Chas B Barrett was down one of the bonds in which Price's name appeared as surety and testified that he had a conversation with Price on Wednesday last week that defendant said he did not know the contractor, Wiley and had signed the bond at the request of McDavitt He said he did own the property in Clinton county on which he had become surety

At this point the District Attorney produced a certificate showing that the property claimed by Price to be worth $35 000 had been sold to him in 1877 for $7000, and that in Sept 1878 it was sold for taxes amounting $124, and that the property has not since been redeemed

Ensign claimed he owned four improved properties, but it was shown that at the time of executing the bonds these properties were mortgaged for $10,000 beyond their assessed value Ensign claims to have satisfied the second mortgages, which were for $1000 each and which were held by Price Wiley, who was principal or bidder, was seen last week by the Inspector and stated that Thomas A McDavitt had some time since visited him and requested him to bid for six Star routes in the territory of Utah, promising at the same time that he would furnish the credentials and would obtain for him (Wiley) an appointment as route agent. Wiley was not to be bothered with the contracts and was to be held blameless in case of trouble

Four of these contracts bid for by Wiley were awarded him, but upon his failure to carry out their provisions they were relet at some $7 000 and relet to other parties All communications referring to the contracts received by Wiley were turned over by him to McDavitt When Inspector Barrett repeated this statement to McDavitt the latter said it was about right, but he acted in the matter only to befriend Wiley who was out of employment, and who he thought could obtain work in this way The Commissioner held McDavitt, Ensign and Price in $5000 bail each for trial the two first furnishing security and the latter being committed in default.

Wiley has not yet been arrested although warrants against him have been out nearly a week The total amount of surety entered on the four star route bonds by Ensign and Price was $24 000 The certificate of the Philadelphia Postmaster which is signed by James F Bingham the Assistant Postmaster, states that diligent and careful search has been made, and in the opinion of the Postmaster the sworn statements as to their responsibility, made by Ensign and Price, were correct.

THE ALBANY CONTEST

ALBANY July 21. The joint convention met at noon and voted as follows

	Senate	Assembly	Total
Lapham,	16	51	67
Potter,	7	38	45
Conkling,	7	21	28
Woodford,	0	1	1

No choice

Necessary to a choice, 71.

Senator Forster voted for Lapham instead of Evarts

The convention then adjourned

The New York Legislature

ALBANY, July 21 A bill providing for elections to fill Congressional vacancies passed the Assembly to-day.

In the Senate a joint resolution was passed making the canals free

There is more activity at the hotels to-night than has been visible in several weeks. The half-breeds and stalwarts are apparently greatly exercised in mind. The stalwarts are demanding a caucus, intimating that they will go so far as to vote for the nomination of Lapham. The half-breeds stand firm against a caucus. They say to hold a caucus now will be to admit their responsibility for the expense of the dead lock from the first and that it is only to put them in that position that the stalwarts are clamoring for a caucus. The stalwarts, they say, will claim that if a caucus was held at the commencement of the contest an election would have taken place the next day The Democrats are also considerably exercised They know they can break the deadlock by simply absenting themselves and thus allow of the election of Lapham, but they fear to do this as they will render themselves liable to the charge of having been bribed Some of them think they ought to run that risk, inasmuch as they think they are now being made tools of by the stalwarts They say the real object of the stalwarts is to prevent Senator Robertson from taking the New York Collectorship They say to accomplish this the stalwarts will stand out till the first of December next The Democrats are seriously considering whether they should not end the deadlock and appeal to the people to relieve them from any unjust suspicions

WELDING IRON The Belfast Journal man having witnessed the welding of the shaft of the steamer May Queen, a piece of iron thirteen inches in circumference, by the process known as jumping thus describes it Jumping iron together is making a perfect weld by adhering the two square ends of the bar After the iron is prepared the two pieces are placed together end to end in the same fire When the right temperature is reached, which is when the iron is white and nearly ready to melt, the administration end of the iron is securely held, when with a very heavy sledge the coupling end is soundly hammered until the union is complete, and both parts come together in joint caucus All this is done while the iron remains in the fire. It is now taken out and hammered down until it is impossible to see the weld and is as secure as any portion of the bar.

ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE CO We publish this morning the thirty first annual statement of the Ætna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn, which has long been recognized as one of the standard institutions Its management has been careful and conservative and as evidence that its investments have been exceptionally safe and remunerative, the statement shows that the interest received during 1880 paid nearly seven per cent on the assets, which amounted Jan. 1, 1881, in gross to $26 403,410 68, with a market value of more than half a million over the cost. The surplus at the beginning of the year was over five million dollars by the New York standard, and the ability and integrity of the company are highly endorsed by all the leading journals of Hartford. Mr Harlewood officiated in a very impressive manner, the singing was by the First Baptist choir The services were very largely attended, the house being filled with the friends of the deceased St John's Commandery, of which order Mr Currier was a Sir Knight attended in a body clothed in full regalia, and added much to the impressiveness of the occasion. The members of Eureka Hose Co of Cottageville were also present After the services at the house an imposing cortege preceded by the Bangor Band moved to Mount Hope Cemetery, attended by solemn music The services at the cemetery were of the most solemn character being conducted in accordance with the burial rites of the Masonic order

A PLEASANT EXCURSION The First Methodist Society and Sabbath School made an excursion to Northport and Lincolnville yesterday, and had a very pleasant time The barge Clifford, with its freight of happy people, left the wharf in tow of one of Ross steamers, about eight o clock and arrived at Northport about twelve Here the party divided, a portion remaining at Northport while the rest proceeded to Lincolnville A visit of about two hours was made at the latter place when the party returned to Northport At about five o clock the excursionists left Northport for home, and arrived in this city about nine The day was beautiful and the occasion one of rare enjoyment to the children and fully appreciated by the older people Just as the barge left Northport a smart shower fell but as all were on board no one became wet, and everyone seemed in a mood for rejoicing that the weather had been so auspicious and the trip altogether so delightful

THE RETAIL GROCERS

Meeting at Portland

At a meeting of the retail grocers held in Portland Wednesday evening, for the purpose of forming a branch of the New England Retail Grocers' Association, Mr. J. C McCready, editor of the New England Grocer, referred to an organization that had once been started among the grocers in that city, but failed owing to reasons which, the speaker said, were undoubtedly familiar to all present The speaker said the New England Association began in a very small way, but it now has a membership of one thousand, with a thriving branch in Bangor in this State The movement has proved itself a success Mr. McCready then proceeded to mention a number of specific cases tending to show what advantage the Association had already been to the retail grocer trade Some years ago retail grocers almost invariably bought raisins in boxes which they supposed contained from 22 to 25 pounds of raisins, when in reality, owing to the amount of wood in the boxes, the total weight of raisins would not exceed 16 or 17 pounds per box. The retailer selling by the pound from the box would of course lose money, as the box held quite a number of pounds less than the basis he had figured on to make his profit Now, by the influence of the New England Association this has been remedied A standard weight on raisins of 20 or 25 pounds per box is guaranteed not to fall short. Then, as every one knows, for years sugars have been sold at cost by large and small dealers alike to advertise the trade But by the help of the New England Association an arrangement with the refiners has been made so that for the past two months in almost all places west of Portland granulated sugar has been selling at an advance of one cent per pound The speaker then read an account of the formation and progress of the New England Retail Grocers' Association

A FINE EXCURSION

From Hampden to Bar Harbor

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

The excursion from Hampden to Bar Harbor was so much of an event to us that I deem a brief mention of it ought to find way into your columns At six A M, July 20 we found ourselves on board the steamboat bound for the far famed summer resort The sail down the river and down the bay through the Reach with its hundreds of islands and scenery that can not be surpassed, around the grand old Island of Mount Desert with its lofty hills, was delightful and more than delightful and at a little past 12 M we landed having reached the point of destination We commenced our work of exploration but soon found ourselves in the hands of Dr Wm Rogers and his good wife whose hospitality and success in pointing out the places of interest and exceeding great kindness will never be forgotten The grand hotels were looked into, the summer visitors with their peculiar styles of dress and evident appreciation of all that was to be enjoyed were gazed upon the buckboard were tested Bar Harbor seen and enjoyed and at 4 P M we started for home The return trip was as pleasant as the former All were satisfied and happy, and at 11 P M we reached the wharf, where we landed, making the entire trip of 100 miles and spending all the time needed at Bar Harbor in less than eighteen hours Surely we were fortunate in the day in the company and in everything necessary to our happiness and we feel especially indebted to Messrs F H Patten, George H and Daniel Doane of Boston and to Captain Atwood of Hampden, through whose efforts the trip was made and to Messrs Ross & Howell of your city for furnishing a steamer so staunch so fleet so comfortable as was the one on which we enjoyed so pleasant an excursion Hoping others may learn of how much may be enjoyed in a little time and go over the same route we remain, EXCURSIONISTS

ANOTHER ACCOUNT H E ' writes A select company from Hampden made an excursion, Wednesday, on the steamer Ralph Ross to Bar Harbor After a run down of six hours and a half the company spent three hours very pleasantly in viewing the place and by a drive to the beautiful Eagle Lake and the Indian camp Starting at 4 P M the party arrived home about 12 in the best of spirit. The Ralph Ross was well fitted up for the excursionists and was much admired while there

HONORED AND BLEST

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors —Democrat.

The virtues of roots, barks and herbs were never better illustrated as healing remedies for the stomach, liver, and, in fact, the whole human frame, than those combined in Dr Graves' Blood Purifier. It contains no mineral poisons, nothing but the strength of these great remedial agents given as a natural cure, and the facility with which the Blood Purifier relieves the system of Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Humor, Scrofula, Jaundice, and the great variety of ailments proceeding from the debility of the stomach and liver, speak volumes of praise for it. The Blood Purifier will give you an appetite, give you renewed strength and vigor Price $1 00

LETTER CARRIERS

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly. Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if a name is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes. Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails. Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 1½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M. Any irregularities in the Carriers' Department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window) when ordered in lots of not less than 500. A request for the return of a letter to the writer if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge. First class envelopes of above furnished at $2 20 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars. Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at this office.

A Well Known Lady

Escapes the Grave, and Prays for her Deliverer.

SPASMS.

Mrs. S. A. McIlwain, of Ferguconville, Delaware County, N. Y., writes "Only a few days before I commenced using the 'Favorite Remedy,' in one of my spasms and sinking spells, my friends thought I was dead, and gave up the attempt to restore me to consciousness. I am confident that if I had not taken your medicine, 'Favorite Remedy,' during my periods of critical illness, I should never have recovered. * * * * * That the Lord may bless you and increase your means of doing good is my daily prayer, and may many yet unborn praise the 'Favorite Remedy' and its discoverer."

THE RUBY RIVER.

To keep the blood pure, is the principal end of invention and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the "Favorite Remedy." It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to Females.

When inquiring of your druggist for this new medicine, avoid mistakes by remembering the name, Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," and the price, which is only one dollar a bottle, and that the doctor's address is Rondout, New York. Ed.
